

Throughout its long history, the Yamaha Group has made various efforts to promote people's "well-being," while remaining conscious of its connection with nature, society and culture. Our products, made of timber and other natural materials and carefully finished by skilled craftspeople, have been handed down from generation to generation and, with some products being given new life through renewal, loved by many people. In addition to simply selling products, we have also contributed to promoting the spread and development of music culture in various countries and regions around the world as our own business. These activities range from the spread of instrumental music education for children and the development of music schools to the support of top artists. These ideas and initiatives are in line with social sustainability and have been passed down through the company's more than 130-year history, shaping the "distinctive brand identity of Yamaha."

Yamaha Group Sustainability Policy

The Yamaha Group aims to create a society that realizes the well-being of all people around the world. To achieve this goal, we will work to protect our one precious earth and contribute to the development of an equal society, comfortable lives, and a music culture that enriches people's hearts and minds, with our corporate philosophy of "Yamaha Philosophy" as the foundation to draw from. At the same time, we will not only respect for human rights but also create an environment in which diverse human resources can respect each other and actively play a role. Through these initiatives, we will continue to create excitement and cultural inspiration together with people around the world. Based on this concept, we have identified materiality and will actively promote sustainability activities to enhance our medium-to-long-term corporate value through the creation of social value by working toward the realization of a sustainable society.
